PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT CREDIT

NAEA National Convention participants receive a Certificate of Attendance upon completion of the professional development program. Attendees are expected to keep track of the sessions they attend and time spent at each session. We advise attendees to translate hour per hour rounding to the nearest whole (e.g., a 50-minute session would count as 1 clock hour).

Clock hours provided upon completion of any NAEA professional learning program/institute are granted for participation in an organized professional learning experience under responsible sponsorship, capable direction and qualified instruction and can be used toward continuing education credit in most states. It is the responsibility of the participant to verify acceptance by professional governing authorities in their area.

EARN UNIVERSITY CREDIT

NAEA and California State University, Chico have partnered to offer university level credit for professional learning earned at the 2017 NAEA National Convention. Provides 15 hours of instructional learning which is eligible for 1 professional development unit ($85). For further information: Visit http://rce.csuchico.edu/teachers/naea and view course EDUC 812C, Art Education. EDUC 812C. Online registration will be available from Wednesday, February 1 through Friday, March 10.